This volume is a brief record of some descendants of David and Mary (Gates) Jameson of central Georgia.

The research and collection of family records necessary for these pages were started in the summer of 1958, when the author unexpectedly came into possession of the family bible of Robert (8), son of David and Mary Gates Jameson.

Acknowledgement is made of the assistance of Mrs. Vernon L. LeMaster, a very capable genealogist, of Decatur, Georgia, who secured much of the data on the Jamesons who lived in Georgia.

Many thanks are also given to Mr. Wallace Cammack Thompson, of Houston, Texas, who so generously allowed inspection of the Jameson records left by his deceased mother, Mrs. J. A. Thompson, a granddaughter of Elizabeth (9) Jameson Trice.

All family records of William (41) and James Marcel-lus (45) Jameson, were obtained directly from the families concerned, to whom many thanks are given.

It is hoped that this little volume will be a source of satisfaction to all who have contributed to its pages, and that it will help to keep green the memories of the wonderful Jamesons who have gone before us.

(Source: Upson County Deed Book "F", page 487): Deed dated December 1, 1846, between Robert Jameson and Mathew H. Sandwich, Administrators of the Estate of Isaac Cooper, late of Upson County, to William Cooper, $408.00 for tract on Potato Creek Branch, known as Tan Yard Branch, containing 250 acres described as portions of Lots 197, 211 and 212, etc., bounded by lands of Robert Jameson and Wm. Franklin.

F. McAfee with the grist and saw mills and pond and all appurtenances whatsoever belonging to the same, etc.

the first time in history, the world's population has reached one billion. This is a remarkable achievement, but it is also a cause for concern.

The world's population is growing rapidly, and this growth is having a significant impact on the environment.
The demand for food, water, and energy is increasing,
and this is putting a strain on natural resources.
We must find ways to manage our resources more sustainably if we are to ensure a better future for all.

At the same time, the world's population is becoming more urbanized. This is leading to changes in the way we live and work, and it is also causing environmental problems such as pollution and climate change.

It is clear that we must take action to address these challenges. We must work together to find solutions that will protect the environment while also ensuring
a better future for all.

We must also recognize that the world's population is not evenly distributed. There are significant inequalities between different regions and communities, and this must be addressed if we are to create a truly sustainable future.

In conclusion, the world's population has reached one billion, and this is a remarkable achievement.
However, it is also a cause for concern, and we must take action to address the challenges that come with this growth. We must work together to find solutions that will protect the environment while also ensuring
a better future for all.
